Baltic-Nordic Acoustics Meeting 2006 is a cooperation between The Swedish Acoustical Society and the Scandinavian Vibration Society. Acoustic design, tinnitus, silence, vibration comfort, noise at work, speech, structure-born sound, speech intelligibility, building damage, music, traffic noise, machine vibrations, condition monitoring are some of the topics at "Sound and vibration" in Gothenburg 2006.

A mix of theory and practice within acoustics and vibration applications will make an interesting meeting for scientists, consulting engineers and other persons with this field of interest.

The Call for Abstracts and Topics of Sessions will be sent to everyone getting this 1st call in November 2005. It will also be presented on Ingemansson Website, www.ingemansson.se from the 15th of December 2005.

Conference setup

The conference gives you the opportunity to take place in four different ways. If you have any ideas for topics on any of these ways please contact Leif Åkerlöf, leif.akerlof@ingemansson.se as soon as possible so we can arrange a more interesting conference.

Plenary sessions

Invited speakers give lessons on an interesting subject for about 45 minutes and then you can ask your questions. In the 2nd Announcement we hope to present all invited speakers.

Prepared sessions

During the conference we will have a number of prepared sessions on interesting topics. These sessions will last for about two hours. The session consists of a number of shorter, 5 - 8 minutes each paper, presentations and then a discussion. If possible the session will come to an agreement. All papers will be distributed to the session participants about three weeks before the conference. You can contribute with a paper or just listen, learn and discuss.

Paper presentations

In 10 - 15 minutes works and projects will be presented and then there are about 5 minutes for questions. You can contribute with a paper or just listen, learn and ask questions.

Poster presentations

You can present your work or ideas on a posters and discuss them with other visitors.
